

Internet circuits are often an overlooked aspect of your IT environment. You may not even think about them until you realize they're insufficient. However, upgrading your circuits can empower all of your systems that rely on them, especially in this era of adopting digital transformative technologies in an effort to keep up with demand and remain competitive.

One Source is a trustful managed services partner that provides you with a cohesive view into your connectivity portfolio, proactively optimizing expenses and inventory based on business needs and actual usage. Advising about circuits is one way we can help empower our customers to take back control of their connectivity costs and ensure their IT environment fully supports the organization.

Better Circuits, Better Pricing

Ever wonder if you were provided the best circuit option for a location? Maybe you have a "problem site" and no matter what changes you make, you still experience connectivity issues.

One Source has nationwide coverage with a 98% hit rate on connectivity. Alongside our coverage, we are seeing an average of 30% cost savings and 25% increases in bandwidth.

New Way to Buy

Do you suspect your service provider isn't always being transparent about pricing? Do you feel like they are steering you in the direction of what gets them the best commission?

With One Source, you have a single point of contact through the entire process of procurement and project managing. We provide full transparency into pricing upfront, down to line level detail, so you know exactly what you are paying for.

Helpdesk & Support

Tired of 45-minute phone calls with service providers which inevitably lead to long wait times and SLAs?

One Source provides nationwide, 24/7 helpdesk and submitting a ticket only takes you 30 seconds. Our team takes the time to understand your problem. From there we can work towards the solution, so you can go back to work.

No Surprise Fees

Do you have visibility into all the fees you are paying in the invoices from your carrier or other third parties? Can you tell if there are extra fees and what they are for?

When purchasing circuits through carriers or other third parties, you aren't just paying for circuits. You are paying added margins, commissions, and additional fees. One Source provides full transparency into pricing, eliminating surprise fees.

Real Time Inventory

Do you have an easy process for locating every asset, subnet/IP, contract end-date, and service you have through each carrier in under 30 seconds?

One Source gives you full visibility into your portfolio through our proprietary technology that is completely customized to your specific business needs.
